In each school, in every community, we all share the responsibility to ensure that each child has the early learning experiences that will give them the best start.